Vanna Whitney Associate Principal, Leddy Maytum Stacy Architects

“My passion has always lied in getting to work with populations who have to struggle to be heard... LMS^A has allowed me to focus on working with these people, and I look forward to continuing to work on such great projects with the firm.”

Vanna Whitney has focused her more than 20-year career on underserved communities and environmental and social sustainability. Her work has included four projects in the San Francisco Bay Area that provide varying amounts of permanent supportive housing for people experiencing homelessness, as well as many more projects serving low-income families.

Within LMS^A, she has led the mentorship program, pairing up a senior architect with a younger designer, and she spoke at the AIA Convention in 2016 and will be a part of two sessions at the upcoming 2017 Convention. Vanna's commitment to serve the community also extends beyond her work in the firm; she is an Assistant Cook for the Streetmeal (a hot dinner served to people living without homes and/or in need of food), has provided her time and design expertise to Habitat for Humanity, and is a member of East Bay Housing Organizations (EBHO).

Vanna's projects have received local and national design awards and been recognized by local and national organizations including the American Institute of Architects, the Urban Land Institute, Turner Prize, San Francisco Business Times, the U.S. Green Building Council, and Builder Magazine. The Rene Cazenave Apartments was selected as an AIA COTE Top Ten Green Project in the U.S. for 2016.

Angela Upshaw Senior Program Manager, Berkeley Food and Housing Project

Angela is the Associate Director of Programs at Berkeley Food and Housing Project (BFHP). Having had a personal experience with homelessness, she is honored and humbled to assist people experiencing homelessness in regaining housing security. She has overseen BFHP's homeless veterans program in six Northern California Counties. Angela is a long-time member and Education Director at the New Greater Love Church of God in Christ in Stockton, and sits on the Advisory Board for the Sacramento Continuum of Care. She holds a Master's in Public Health from Touro University California and a MBA from University of Phoenix.

California for most of those two decades. Shashi represents Mercy on both National Racial Equity Diversity and Inclusion (REDI) and statewide efforts within Mercy Housing California teams.

Shashi is currently leading a $40 million capital campaign for Mercy in collaboration with our partners Boys & Girls Club of SF, Related CA, and Wu Yee to raise philanthropic funds to build the Hub, a state of the art Community Center and Recreation Center in Sunnydale neighborhood of SF, at the heart of a neighborhood redevelopment of public housing that Mercy is also leading. Shashi has also produced short videos on resident's lives at Mercy Housing. For leisure he loves biking, frisbee, hiking and cavorting with his three kids. In the '90s he bicycled across America and parts of Asia for a nonprofit group he founded Pedaling for Peace.

William Goodwin Resident Leader, Hope Solutions

William is a native of Oakland, California, and now a Resident in Pittsburg, California. He is a member of the Resident Empowerment Program, with Hope Solutions (formerly Contra Costa County Interfaith Housing). A community advocate and strong proponent of Civic Engagement, William has served three years as President of the Los Medanos Junior High School Site Council, and is a member of the Pittsburg Unified School District Advisory Committee. He volunteers with a number of non-profit organizations throughout the Bay Area, helping to accelerate the social and economic mobility of the underserved. William is a recent graduate of Urban Habitat's Board and Commissions Leadership Institute. He is a firm believer that Housing is a Human Right, and therefore advocates for Housing Justice, Affordable Housing, and Supportive Services.

Donna Griggs-Murphy Resident Services Supervisor, Human Good

Donna Griggs-Murphy is a Resident Services Supervisor at HumanGood. An Aging Services Professional for 20 years, she serves on Alameda County's Commission on Aging, Senior Services Coalition Steering Committee, Alameda County's Older Adults Council, and is the Chair of Leading Age California Affordable Housing Subcommittee. Donna continues to fight for safe and affordable housing for all with supportive services. Donna has worked in Affordable Housing for over 20 years and encouraged residents to be a part of Leadership Engagement with EBHO. She continues to be an active community partner and member of EBHO.

Linda Coleman Vice President of Resident Services, HumanGood

In her position as Vice President of Resident Services for affordable housing at HumanGood, she manages resident services offering a wide array of supportive health and wellness services. Her work focuses on ensuring that residents are receiving the assistance they need to maintain and improve their quality of life, and successfully age in their home and community. In addition, forming and implementing purposeful partnerships in efforts to assist residents to thrive in their respective communities, is a critical function of what she works towards. Linda is certified in mediation for conflict resolution, Professional Service Coordinator, LeadingAge Academy 2015,
